

H. J. Andrews Experimental Forest Fourth Annual Symposium

Social Science - Natural Science Collaborations

Monday, May 7, 2001, 8:00 AM - 5:00 PM—LaSells Stewart Center

- 7:45 Coffee and other beverages in lobby
- 8:15 Welcome and opening remarks (Julia Jones) – Construction and Engineering Hall
- 8:30 Denise Lach (Sociology, OSU) “Resource managers’ use of science information: how scientists are perceived and how they perceive management”
- 9:00 Bruce Shindler (Forest Resources, OSU) “Lessons from social science-natural science collaborations in forestry”
- 9:30 Court Smith (Anthropology, OSU) “Interdisciplinary watershed and fishery collaborations: An anthropologist’s view”
- 10:00 Break
- 10:15 David Hulse (Landscape Architecture, University of Oregon) “Alternative futures as a context for multidisciplinary research”
- 10:45 Steve Rayner (International and Public Affairs, and Sociology, Columbia Univ.) “Participation in sustainable resource management”
- 11:15 Andrew Plantinga (Agricultural and Resource Economics, OSU) “Introducing ecologists to the species Homo economicus: Lessons from a successful integration of wildlife ecology and environmental economics”
- 11:45 Discussion (moderator, Stan Gregory)
- 12:15 Lunch - MarketPlace West
- 1:30 Poster Session for graduate students – Ag Rooms (moderator, Fred Swanson)
- 3:00 Coffee available in lobby
- 3:30 Panel Discussion - Construction/Engineering Hall (moderator, Mark Harmon)

What are special opportunities for social science - natural science collaborations at long term ecological research sites?

Panelists: Steve Rayner; Andrew Plantinga; Aaron Wolf; Court Smith; Bruce Shindler; Brent Steel; Denise Lach; David Hulse

Willamette National